BERLIN, March 1.—A harsh warning to Czechoslovakia to honor the rights of Germans within its borders was sounded by Field Marshal Hermann Goering today.

Addressing leading members of the air force which he commands on the third anniversary of its establishment, Goering spoke of the "fearful" warning that Germany will not permit a national in other lands to be maltreated.

"You know," he said, "that if it is to be, you will have to stand by the Führer's orders to the last. We are proud that the Führer has taken over supreme command of the air force, and we are bound to be ready for action at all times."

"We members of the air force are imbued with a tremendous will to fight and are certain of victory in emergency. We have to thank the Führer for our readiness and we will prove to the nation and to all air forces that we are invincible."

"In any further conflict, we will come the terror of our enemies. It will not shrink from anything. It is the fact of other nations that we are strong and unconquerable today. The fact is not Germany. No results were achieved in any negotiations designed to restrict aerial weapons to purely defensive arms."

"Strength Is Terrific"

"The German air force is a guarantor of German peace, but we must not let its strength be used. If referred to act, we swear we shall still fear in the hearts of our enemies. We will not shrink from anyone."

PA NEW OBSERVES

It has been reported at The News office that Mrs. Philip Winters of Lewistown has at her home a rare red tomato. The plant also has a green tomato and numerous blossoms on it.

PA News notes a great deal of snow has taken place among residents of the city during the past week. More will probably occur the first of May and the first of July.

March came in very lamb-like through a little chilly. We will have to wait now and see whether the old adage holds good. If our memory serves us correctly, it didn't last year.

Skaters were able to indulge themselves at the skating ponds in the district last evening, the sudden cold snap coming in strong enough to bear the weight of the skaters. Devotees of the sport are hoping that weathering will last for a few more days at least.

City friends have been fortunate in winter that the weather has been mild and they have had no frozen fire plugs to hamper them in their work. They had their first snow this morning, when the plug at Lafayette and Federal streets froze, and just as soon as the job was completed, Old Sol came out and warmed to melt their efforts.

Rescue Crew Still Has Hope For Trapped Dog

DUBUQUE, Ia., March 1.—A rescue crew today for a 5-year-old fox terrier trapped for the 11th day in a fox hole south of Farley, Emmet, Minn., the dog's owner, said he still believed the creature was alive although the crew failed to hear its barks for the first time yesterday.

The workers estimated 110 sticks of dynamite had been used to blast out the earth. Lately they have been using black powder and making lighter charges because they believed they were hearing the entombed animal.

Murder-Suicide In Auto Crash?

Going 95 Miles An Hour
—Two Killed

(International News Service)
WACO, Tex., March 1.—Richard B. Cory, 23, and his sweetheart, Ethel Pauline Davis, 20, will be buried today as the result of a strange auto crash which officials said they believed to have been murder and suicide.

The car, occupied by the couple, smashed head-on into a concrete abutment in an underpass while going at an estimated speed of 95 miles an hour. Cory was driving.

Justice of the Peace Claude Segrest, who is investigating the case, said he probably would return such a verdict because of statements made by the girl's sister and mother who said Miss Davis kissed her mother and remarked "you may never see me again." The young woman also said she was afraid not to go on the ride.

ROME, March 1.—Under blue Italian skies in the romantic little village of Ravello, Greta Garbo and Leopold Stokowski were found on holiday today.

Each day, it was learned, the famous Swedish film star and the orchestra conductor with the famed bands met for tea on a balcony of the old Hotel Belvedere and gazed down on the majestic view of the bay and of Amalfi.

For days, while Italy, gay in carnival time, hummed with rumors, Miss Garbo and Stokowski kept their whereabouts a secret.

But today Dino Caruso, proprietor of the Belvedere, proudly related the whole story over the telephone.

"Mr. Stokowski came here on Feb. 17, and made arrangements with Mrs. Lucy Frost, who I believe is from London, for use of her villa," said Caruso.

"He nested on a crag 300 feet above the sea."

"Mr. Stokowski and Miss Garbo came to the hotel each afternoon for tea. They kept strictly to themselves and walk about Ravello in the late afternoon to avoid meeting people."

Japanese Push Drive On Lunghai Railway—May
Trap Chinese

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, March 1.—British-Japanese relations received a fresh blow today when a Japanese soldier shot a Chinese civilian inside the British defense sector of the international settlement.

Japanese military authorities said that the Chinese stole some wire inside the Japanese defense area and refused to halt at a sentry's order. Instead, he climbed through barbed wire into the British sector.

Brigadier General Telfer-Smyth, British commander, ordered an investigation.

This latest alleged incident of Japanese "invasion" of the international settlement followed a series in which American marine officers turned back Japanese soldiers who sought to enter the United States defense zone.

New Japanese Push.

Japan's wide drive for possession of the Lunghai railway became a three-pronged menace today as a new push on the Shensi-Shanghai border brought about the fall of Chungtu.

More than 250,000 Chinese were reported trapped in an elbow of the Yellow river in that area. Part of the retreating Chinese crossed the stream into Shensi, and the remainder fell back toward the southwest.

In an attempt to break the deadlock in Shantung province, the Japanese sent numerous reinforcements to Pengpu, on the Tientsin-Nanking railroad. Chinese authorities, announcing capture of Ishui, 90 miles west of Tientsin, claimed, however, that the Japanese offensive had been halted.

Runways At Airport May Be Extended

Some extensions to the airport at Parktown Corners are probably going to be made within the near future it was stated today in the WPA office. Surveyors have been on the job for several days with the idea of lengthening the runways.

With the advance in size and speed of airplanes, the ports which two years ago were considered ample are now outmoded. It would be impossible to land ships on ports with runways of 2500 feet.

The runways of the Parktown airport are approximately 3000 feet long. Even these lengths are not suitable for the heavier ships now being built. To be considered a grade A airport today the runways should be 5000 feet long, but the Parktown port runways will not be lengthened to anything like that.

Five Hundred Hear W. & J. President At Father-Son Banquet

"There is a need today for kings among men, kings who are, above everything else, honest and pure men and men who are always thinking of the other fellow," Dr. Ralph Cooper, Hutchinson, youthful president of Washington and Jefferson college, told 500 fathers and sons of the New Castle community at a colorful city dad-son banquet, sponsored by The Townsmen, young men's civic group, in the Cathedral last night.

The audience, from very small children to elderly men, riveted its attention on the speaker as he lashed out in scorching terms at the "high class gangsters" whom he described as "men who know but whose character is rotten."

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Holding the administration chiefly accountable for the business recession, Bernard M. Baruch, New York financier, was scheduled to continue his denunciation of President Roosevelt's main "recovery" policies today before the special senate committee investigating the causes of unemployment and relief.

A close personal adviser to the president since 1933, Baruch said he will spend most of the day before the committee discussing the administration's agriculture policies and its anti-monopoly program. He indicated disagreement with the broad farm rehabilitation program, and said he would suggest a modified course in dealing with the problem of monopoly.

March roared in like a lion on Pennsylvania today as a sharp, biting wind that reached gale-like proportions in some sections of the state sent residents scurrying for cover.

But, according to the ancient proverb, better prospects are in sight. The sages of yesteryear have always maintained that if the weather "comes in like a lion, it goes out like a lamb in March." And last night's spine-chilling winds were a far cry from being anything akin to "lamb weather."

BATH, Me., March 1.—Two pedestrians met instant death and three other men were injured seriously today when an explosion and fire destroyed an automobile agency and garage here. Force of the blast shattered more than 2,000 windows in nearby buildings and homes.

The dead were Henry E. Fuller, 22, and Arthur J. Ward, 35, who were hurled against the wrecked building when the blast let go. Both men were passing the agency enroute to work in a nearby foundry.

Patrolman Robert D. Green, pacing his beat outside the building, and two other early morning workers were slammed to the ground by the explosion. All three were taken to a hospital.

Fire that followed destroyed the garage with less estimated at $50,000. Origin of the explosion was undetermined, but firemen indicated ignition of an accumulation of fumes from loaded gasoline trucks stored overnight may have caused the blast.

Three hundred policemen and deputized constables patrolled streets of the city until merchants could protect their stores after the windows were blown out.

State Labor Conventions Are Called

Two Gatherings Are Scheduled

Action Follows Order Dissolving State A. F. of L. Recently

FACTIONAL CLAIMS FOR SUPPORT MADE

HARRISBURG, March 1.—New life was injected into the dissolved Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today after state labor leaders met here to erase recent battle scars and to discuss future activities.

Announcement was made by John L. Phillips, president of the P. F. of L. that a convention of labor unions would be held here March 29 to elect officers and set up a new Pennsylvania industrial council.

Following a conference yesterday, Lewis G. Hines, assistant to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, stated that a separate convention would be held here April 7, 8, 9 and 10.

Green recently ordered that the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor surrender as charter because it had failed to "purge" itself of unions affiliated with John L. Lewis' CIO contrary to his demand.

True Is Reached.

A truce was reached between the state's warring labor factions relative to disposition of the records and books of the dissolved State Federation of Labor. Hines said an agreement had been made to turn the books and records over to the American Federation of Labor.

Both Hines and Phillips were claiming the majority of the organized workers to be enrolled in their respective unions.

The American Federation of Labor representatives claim that 2,000 A. F. of L. unions representing a membership of 400,000 workers would send delegates to the April convention. Phillips and the dissolved Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, on the other hand, assert that 75 per cent of the membership is represented by unions affiliated with the CIO.

The A. F. of L. was represented at yesterday's conference by Hines, James Knoud, A. F. of L. secretary, and Special Auditor James J. McElroy. Lester Thomas, secretary of the P. F. of L. represented the new Pennsylvania Industrial Council.

FIVE HUNDRED HEAR FACTIONAL STRIFE IN W. & J. PRESIDENT AT SEVERAL STATES IS FATHER-SON BANQUET DEMOCRATIC WORRY

He is at the very same time honest. He has pilaged his country and taken money from orphans, he is corrupt and he has undermined his own mighty constitution. This man who might have been the greatest king of Persia has no character.

And there he turns to the need for character kings among men today.

Moderator Toastmaster

Introduced by John R. Hodze, able toastmaster who was general chairman for the banquet, Dr. Hodze delivered one of the most appropriate addresses. A father-son banquet here ever heard of?

Hodze had been presented earlier by the president of the Townsman, Laura G. Laurell, who welcomed the fathers and sons. Laurell's four-year-old son, Tommy, sat beside his father at the high speakers' table.

During the program Zeno Platt, businessman here, gave the fathers' toast to the sons and his young son, Gordon, a student at St. Joseph's parochial school, responded with a splendid toast to the fathers.

The father, in his toast, told the boys they live in a world "where men grow up doing big things" and he said, "I'm sure the real American father tries to understand the real American boy and I'm sure the real American boy appreciates it."

Musical Numbers

Two lively accordion numbers by Emory Swonger and two electric organ numbers by Stanley McArdle continued the program.

Directing the pep singing of the night was the pastor of the Highland U. P. church, Dr. D. L. Robinson, who sat at the head table with his son, David. At the piano during the singing was Judy Sypher, while the melodious organ was played by McArdle. The invocation was by Rev. W. V. McLean of the First M. E. church, and the benediction by Rabbi Norman H. Diamond of Temple Israel.

Toastmaster Hodze read to the group a telegram from William E. Reuswiler, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball club, and an invited guest, who found it impossible to come to New Castle.

Earlier, President Laurell had expressed the regrets of the group in not having Dr. C. S. Bennett, honorary chairman of the banquet, present last night. The First Christian church pastor left yesterday on a Florida trip he had planned before the latest banquet date was fixed.

Lockeys Honored

The father with the greatest number of sons in attendance was Harry W. Lockeley, head of the Lockeley Machine company, who stood when the toastmaster called for responses. With Mr. Lockeley were Sons Sid, New Castle's city controller; Elroy, Joseph and Harry L.

The Lockeys, in accordance with advance promises of the banquet leaders, attended "free of charge." Sitting with Dr. Robinson at the speakers' table was Attorney Clarence A. Patterson, a close friend, and his father, W. C. Patterson.

Members of the Townsman formed the banquet committees with Hodze as general chairman. Last night's dinner was the third to be sponsored by the group.

Plain weaves in dress materials are as important as prints for early spring wear.

KIDNAPERS MAY HAVE CUSTODY OF NEW ROCHELLE BOY

Peter, his worried parents telephoned police. Later the telephone rang. Mrs. Levine answered and a male voice instructed her to look under a large stone in a vacant lot near the Levine home for a message.

Mrs. Levine was reported to have found under the stone a note which asserted that Peter had been kidnapped and would be held for $60,000 ransom.

Through newspapers and radio the boy's father, Attorney Murray Levine, appealed to the kidnappers for some word or sign and promised: "you will be safe in dealing with me. The federal authorities and police have promised not to interfere."

Identity of the intermediary chosen to deal with the apparent abductor was vague. Louis Posner, former member of the New York board of education, a close friend of the Levines, denied that he was acting for the family as had been reported.

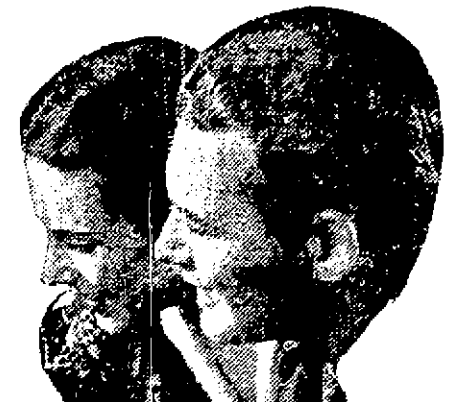

Reader Of Detective Stories

The kidnaper was reported to have demanded $60,000 ransom in a note set under a rock in the yard of a vacant house near the Levines' 12-room home but Levine indicated that it would be entirely impossible to raise any such amount even if all his friends came to his assistance.

Today to the many angles of the case was added belief of some friends of the family that Peter might not have been kidnapped at all. The boy was described as a frequent reader of detective story magazines and these friends saw in these pursuits some slight basis for belief that the lad might have staged his own "kidnaping" for a thrill.

BARUCH HOLDS POLICIES CAUSE OF RECESSION

Baruch was revealed before the committee yesterday when he warned that unless the administration changes its course "there can be no recovery."

Baruch assailed the undistributed corporation profits tax, and the capital gains tax as chiefly responsible for the sharp drop in the business index.

"The immediate future in business depends upon what congress does about taxation and I strongly recommend that these two taxes be sharply modified," Baruch said.

Criticizing the Social Security Payroll Tax, he also recommended that the entire Social Security set-up be studied with a view to revision of its tax structure.

The Social Security Payroll Tax decreases the purchasing power of the workers and encourages manufacturers to install labor-saving machinery, Baruch stated.

Outlines Recovery Program

Outlining his "recovery" program, Baruch urged that the administration set a floor for wages and a ceiling over hours, eliminate unfair trade practices and raise the purchasing power of the farmer to consume the products of industry.

Declaring that "civilization depends upon the future course taken by the United States," Baruch called upon the administration to encourage a free commerce, and friendly business relations with the remaining democracies of the world.

He bluntly warned that unless the United States takes the initiative in maintaining an increasing volume of government may be jeopardized.

Baruch said that much of the unrest in Europe was due chiefly to the Treaty of Versailles.

anti-monopoly program as likely to retard the growth of "legitimate" business. Referring specifically to "utility monopolies," and recommending Federal regulation of monopolies rather than competition, he said:

"Since the government has ample power to regulate them directly I have always doubted either the necessity or wisdom of the attempt to regulate them by having government compete with them."

"The operation of business rather than the regulation of business stacks too much of what is going on in Russia and Germany. It is a

GENEVA COLLEGE GROUP PLEASE WOMAN'S CLUB

The actions of Mr. Box and Mr. Cox when they found they were living in the same room and sharing the same lady friend, caused much merriment for members of the Women's club Monday afternoon when they assembled at the regular meeting in the Highland T. P. church.

"Box and Cox" a one-act comedy written by Sir Thomas Norton in the nineteenth century, was produced by three Geneva college students, under the direction of Professor McCallum.

"John Doe," a playlet, was played by William Leach, while "James Cox," a master, was enacted by Gilbert Gallagher and Mrs. Boucher. The audience was given by Mary Alice Hunter.

Preceding this part of the program, three vocal selections were presented in a pleasing manner by a Geneva college alumna.

To Mrs. J. Wylie Brewster, head of the Division of Drama of the Department of Fine Arts, credit is due for arranging the afternoon's entertainment.

The day's business hour was in charge of the club president, Mrs. Harry L. Goss, while those presiding as hostesses included Mrs. R. M. White and Mrs. A. M. Shumaker. The occasion well attended, was most thoroughly enjoyed.

Don't experiment with Children's Colds

Relieve Their Misery This Proved Way

WHEN your child comes down with a cold you can't afford to take needless risks. Use the treatment that has been doubly proved for you—Vicks VapoRub.

It has been proved by everyday use in more homes than any other medication of its kind—further proved by the largest clinical tests ever made on colds. (Full details in every VapoRub package.) Only Vicks give you proof like this.

Vicks VapoRub is direct external treatment. There's no dosing—no risk of spoiling appetite, or disturbing a delicate digestion. VapoRub can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

You simply massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back (as illustrated). Then—to make its long-continued action last even longer—spread a thick layer of the chest and cover with a warm cloth.

No Long Waiting for Relief to begin...

Almost before you finish rubbing, the youngster begins to feel warm and comfortable as VapoRub goes to work direct through the skin like a poultice. At the same time its menthol vapors, released by the warmth of the body, are carried direct to the irritated air-passages with every breath.

This double action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation and coughing—helps break up local congestion. And long after the little one relaxes into restful sleep, VapoRub keeps right on working—hour after hour. Often, by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

Democratic Breach Becomes More Acute

By WILLIAM G. WEART

PHILADELPHIA, March 1.—The breach in the Democratic state organization here is growing more acute with the passage of time. Philadelphia's Democratic party is now in a state of confusion, and the party is being torn apart by the actions of its leaders.

In the widely-spread confusion, the party is being torn apart by the actions of its leaders. The party is now in a state of confusion, and the party is being torn apart by the actions of its leaders.

Kelly jumps into fray. Jumping into the fray in defense of Matthew H. McCloskey, Jr., who resigned as co-leader of Philadelphia last Saturday, City Chairman John B. Kelly, now vacationing at Miami Beach, has returned to Philadelphia with several hundred as the director of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania.

Kelly's latest move is a complete surprise as he had said he would not comment on the resignation of McCloskey, although he had conferred in Philadelphia last week and also observers pointed out, it was Stern, regarded with being largely responsible for the rebirth of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, who raised Kelly to his present leadership.

Meanwhile, Charles Alvin Jones, Pittsburgh attorney, whose slating as the party's gubernatorial candidate started the discussion, reiterated that he would not retire from the race as demanded by a front page editorial in Stern's Philadelphia record.

Recent Stern's Dictation. "I resent Mr. Stern's attempt at dictation," said Kelly. "I am amazed at his audacity to attempt to dictate to me. I am not Mr. Stern's candidate. Mr. Stern has had his own candidate all along and what has been going on for several days has taken on the character of a rule or movement for that reason. Mr. Stern's attitude is audacious and untenable and will destroy the Democratic party that I have worked to build up. Again I say that I resent Mr. Stern's attempt at dictation."

Christian Endeavors To Gather March 10 At Reformed Presbyterian

Plans are being completed for the spring assembly of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union to be held in the Reformed Presbyterian church, New Castle, on Thursday evening, March 10.

The assembly will open with a banquet at 6:30 p. m. Ralph Montgomery will be the toastmaster of the evening. The program will follow in the church auditorium at 8 p. m.

The devotional part of the program will be conducted by a group of young people from the First Presbyterian church under the direction of Miss Olive Webb. Miss Geraldine Fry, the retiring president, will conduct the business part of the meeting which will include the report of nominating committee and the election of the officers for the year beginning April 1, 1938.

The address of the evening will be given by the state secretary of Christian Endeavor, Warren G. Hoopes. Concluding the service will be the installation of the new officers by Mr. Hoopes.

Seventeen churches in Lawrence county form the Christian Endeavor Union and groups from each of these churches enter in to the rally with a great deal of spirit to see which one will get the banner of award for the highest percentage based upon attendance at the county executive meeting, at the rally and money paid. The motto of Christian Endeavor is "For Christ and the Church."

The Christian Endeavors from Plainville will present a short play as a part of the program, setting forth the birth of Christian Endeavor.

Priest Issues Labor Warning

Monsignor Fulton F. Sheen Of Catholic University Speaks At Banquet

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—"Extremists" of both capital and labor today "need to talk less about their rights and more about their duties," according to Monsignor Fulton F. Sheen, professor of scholastic philosophy at Catholic university, Washington, D. C.

Speaking at a banquet in honor of the Reverend Lawrence O'Connell, who is starting his 40th year as pastor of the Epiphany church, the priest warned labor that the right to organize can be revoked when it works against the common good in America.

"You can't have rights without having duties," Monsignor Sheen said. "They are the concave and convex sides of a sphere."

"Capital should realize," he added, "that it alone is not entitled to make profits of industry. If it wants to make employees defenders of capital, it must give them some capital to defend."

Cox Tells About Trip To Florida

Ira L. Cox, of this city, who with his wife, has been in Florida, since late in November, has written to The News, telling of his experiences since leaving this city.

His letter follows:

"Just a few lines to tell you how we are enjoying life in Florida. After leaving New Castle on November 18, stopping in Washington for a day, we continued on to Florence, S. C. for a day, and then on to Jacksonville, Fla. After stopping at various points in Florida, we arrived in Tampa, December 8, where we are now located at 113 North Boulevard.

"We like Tampa very much. We attended the State Fair, just two squares from our home. The first week, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Almy called on us and we went to the fair with them. The next week, C. W. Davies, formerly of New Castle, but now of Mobile, Ala., with his niece, Mary Davis, called on us and stayed three days. Mr. Davies was my foreman on the Pennsylvania R. R. for 30 years.

"The next week, who came along but Eugene Robinson and his three girls from Neshannock township. They were going places and did not stay long with us. I hope they get home O. K. We go to church with Mrs. Anne March and Mrs. Jennie Harris of New Castle, and go fishing with Mr. Martin of Hillcrest avenue. I have a private guide, whose name is John Van Dusen, a retired steel worker from Youngstown.

"We have been around to the various points of interest, the dog races, fruit markets, and cigar factories. There are around 50 of the latter. John doesn't smoke so my pockets get full sooner. We were out to see him cauling grapefruit. They told Mr. Van Dusen that 700 people work there. The lady who hush the grapefruit make 7 and 8 bucks a day. Mrs. Annie Marsh, Mrs. Cox and I went to the singing tower sanctuary at Lake Wales, Fla., 70 miles from Tampa.

"We were over to St. Petersburg for a day and saw Mrs. Frank Dewberry and son. On Thanksgiving Day, we took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Genkinger and family, formerly of New Bedford. One day, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shendler, of New Castle, had us out for a long ride and to their house for dinner. Mr. Genkinger is in the ice cream business, and Mr. Shendler is in the mattress business in Miami.

"I saw where Mr. Morris saw a turtle that weighed 50 pounds. I saw one that weighed 500 pounds. When he walked in the sand he made a track like a cow. Speaking of Shenando Pottery in New Castle, we saw Shenando Pottery ware in Washington, D. C., Florence, S. C., Miami, Ft. Myers, Lake Wales, Tarpon Springs, St. Petersburg, Plant City, Jacksonville, and Tampa, Fla. William Kay is agent for Shenando Pottery ware in Florida. Mr. Kay married a former New Castle lady who will be remembered as Naomi Sutton of the East Side. Her brother, Charley, lives with her. Charley is not married and don't know how he gets by. They get married at the age of 14 around here.

"I was out on the pier the other day and saw them unload about 8,000 pounds of red snapper. The man said he got 7 cents a pound for them, and the wholesaler gets 12 cents, while they retail for 15 cents.

"I am going from here to Silver Springs, then to New Orleans, and return to Mobile, then to Montgomery, Ala., and then on to Cincinnati.

"We get The News here speedily. People write and tell me of events that happen in Lawrence county, as soon as they happen, but I have read of it in The News from 24 to 48 hours before I get their letters.

AROUND CITY HALL

Approximately $200,000 will be expended for the North Mercer street-Euclid avenue sewer, according to city Engineer Glenn R. Throp. The sewer will be built by WPA employees. The city will buy the materials and the WPA will provide the labor. The necessary legislation for the project was passed by council yesterday. Under the provisions of one ordinance the city has condemned a 10-foot strip of ground through Euclid avenue, Neshannock township. The measure also provides that if the abutting property owners on Euclid avenue be lawfully entitled to damages they shall be paid out of money appropriated for that purpose. However, the ordinance states that "nothing herein contained shall be construed as an admission on the part of the city that the aforementioned property owners have any interest in the lands condemned which was required for the sewer. The sewer will course from a point 30 feet south of the center line of Euclid avenue through North Mercer street to a point five feet north of the center line of Euclid avenue, thence through Euclid avenue, Neshannock township to Wilmington avenue thence by an open natural water-course to the Shenando river. The Glenmore boulevard sewer will be extended from its terminus west of Albert street to North Mercer street. According to Throp there now is in North Mercer street a sanitary sewer. When asked if there was any expectation that North Mercer street would be paved in the not far distant future the city engineer replied that he does not believe so unless a larger sanitary sewer is constructed.

Yarnell & Company has written council that the city of New Castle should oppose the Maloney bill because if adopted, it will increase the cost of bonding and raise city taxes. Yarnell & Company has bought a lot of bonds from this city. The letter was also signed by bond buying agencies. Councilman W. E. Dunlap said he was opposed to so many national and state restrictions and added, "This is another case of the Democratic administration 'needing in'." This brought a rally from Councilman J. M. Rice, a Democrat, who retorted: "You are making a motion you do not know anything about." Dunlap replied he did. Rice said he believed the letter was propaganda aimed at the S.E.C. Mayor Charles E. McGrath asked that the letter be re-read, explaining because he did not know what it was about, a statement to which Rice subscribed. This was done following which Councilman J. Leon Fink explained that Yarnell & Company last year had bought approximately $100,000 worth of city bonds. The letter said the Maloney bill restrictions were unwarranted. Council voted four to one, Rice dissenting, to send a protest to Washington against the Maloney bill.

"Why bring that up?" was the gist of Superintendent T. C. Moore's reply to Councilman W. E. Dunlap, when the latter asked the rail executive what the company planned to do after Croton and Third ward residents presented to council and the street car company a request that street cars be abandoned for buses on the Croton route. Moore had gone to council to find out if the city planned to resurface Walnut street and was informed it does. He will be given 60 days notice before work starts. Walnut street car tracks will be abandoned and the cars will operate east and west through Crawford avenue. Moore said that while some people may believe buses can be operated more economically than cars, this is not true. At last, when pressed by Dunlap for a definite statement, Moore said that insofar as he knows now the company does not propose installing buses and eliminating street cars on the Croton route.

New Benefit Payments For Farmers Begin

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 1.—Designed to make the AAA conform more closely with the new 1938 farm act, new restrictions and benefit payments to farmers and soil allotments were in effect today.

Wheat farmers will receive benefit payments of 12 cents per bushel for co-operating with provisions of the revised AAA. At the same time, it was announced that 6,000,000 acres now in crops would be returned to natural grass.

For their co-operation by staying within crop acreage allotments and planning lands under the soil-depleting and soil-building plans, farmers will receive a maximum 12 cents per bushel. Only farmers eligible for these benefits will be those in poor wheat-crop areas whose acreage yield is less than 100 bushels. They will receive benefits and other assistance under the general soil-depleting crops payments.

Miss Sowash, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Sowash, retired missionaries of the United Presbyterian church, will teach commercial subjects in the American Mission school in Alexandria. A graduate of Westminster college in 1931 and the Margaret Morrison school of Secretarial Science, Pittsburgh, in 1932, she has been a teacher of commercial subjects in the local high school for the past three years.

Mrs. Eric Harris, sister of Miss Sowash, lives in Egypt where her husband teaches in the government school.

President Has Final Say On Fund For State 'Dream' Highway

Approval Not As Yet Given

Project Would Give Employment To 30,000 Men It Is Expected

HOPE TO START PROJECT SOON

HARRISBURG, March 1. President Roosevelt, it appeared here today, holds final say on approval of a $25,000,000 WPA labor project for Pennsylvania's "dream" highway after all formal requirements have been fulfilled. The formal approval of the labor fund will be forthcoming, it was expected, with the Works Progress Administration has received opinions from the Bureau of Public Roads and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Temporarily held up with the labor grant, the project is a request for $25,000,000 "working capital" loan from the RFC, sought by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to get construction of the tunnel and bridge between Pittsburgh and the rising underpass.

World Employer 20,000

WPA officials, reliable sources here said, view the project favorably. The project, roughly would employ 20,000 persons. Since hours of employment on the 100-mile super highway are difficult to estimate accurately.

Commission said its proposed bonds for the highway. Already, Governor George D. Earle explained, no bonding houses have inquired about the matter and at least one house has offered to take the entire issue. With cost of the road estimated at $25,000,000 and the possibility of obtaining $25,000,000 in WPA aid, the commission would have to bond only $10,000,000 in bonds for the toll highway, it was said.

Butler County's Aid List Is Large

BUTLER, Pa., March 1. More than 20,000 persons, or approximately one out of every three residents of Butler county, are being aided directly or indirectly by state and federal funds, it was estimated today, on the basis of the latest statistics available from the various agencies.

The department of public assistance, which includes the direct relief and aid to dependent children's funds, aided 4,755 persons in this county in January.

The WPA has a total of 1,255 persons employed on projects of various types in Butler. Estimates show there are an average of about four persons in each class, making a total of 5,020 persons aided through the WPA.

At present, 5,034 persons have received for unemployment compensation in Butler county and it is estimated that about 10 to 15 per cent of those claims will not be approved.

Select Date For Good Will Event

Second Annual Good Will Service To Be Held Here On Wednesday, March 9

During Monday's meeting of the Ministerial Association, Wednesday, March 9, was selected as the date for the second annual Good Will service.

Protestants, Catholics and Jews throughout New Castle will participate in making this movement for mutual understanding a permanent institution in the city. Make America Safe for Differences, the slogan of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, is the guiding principle of such gatherings.

Judge Thomas W. Dickey will preside. A priest, a minister, and a rabbi will each preach briefly, with good will as the theme of their talks. Two thousand communities over the land conducted similar services during the month of February.

The committee of Drs. J. S. Irvine, Charles D. Wiegand, and Rabbi N. T. Diamond announced that the service will include music by one of the outstanding choral groups of the city and a Scriptural selection. The place of meeting as well as the complete program will be fixed within the next few days. A silver offering, to go to the N. C. J. C., will be taken up.

A vaccine to combat rabies or by-phenolism, disease of dogs and other animals made with the aid of ultra-violet light seems possible.

Super-Planes For U. S. Army

Army Air Corps Designers Can Put Them Into Production At Once

ONLY AWAITING ORDER OF CONGRESS

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 1. If congress provides the money and asks for speed, army air corps designers and test pilots are ready to put into the air on short notice, the most modern and deadly fighting force in the world.

New planes boasting performance standards far beyond anything now in regular air corps service are on the experimental aprons, officials said today, checked and ready to be thrown into production.

These super-planes will move slowly into service in the normal course of replacement. But if congress, now engaged in an inquiry to determine the merits of either side of the age old argument about airplanes versus battleships, wants these new ships fast, all it has to do is put up the money and order the planes pronto.

Every category of air fighting is covered in the newly developed airplanes—bombers—attack or ground strafing work—observation—pursuit or purely fighting tactics. Even the performance of the "flying fortresses" which just completed a formation flight to South America

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

McNutt Drive Is Too Obvious

Campaign Of Philippine High Commissioner Borders On Ridiculous

WASHINGTON NOT MUCH INTERESTED

Central Press
Washington Bureau
601 Times-Herald Bldg.
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Washington politicians practically unanimous verdict (and there are some pretty capable and experienced politicians here on an average) is that the campaign of Philippine High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt for the Democratic presidential nomination is overly obvious.

In fact, it is spoken of as verging on the ridiculous, which is about the worst imaginable thing for a presidential candidacy.

This may not be exclusively Commissioner McNutt's own fault.

His friends appear to have done their part toward exaggerating him perhaps without his personal sanction. It is a queer mistake for them to have made, however, considering how politically astute Hoover partisanship is supposed to be.

It is only Hoover Republicanism that is so naive. Possibly the Democratic faction is less so.

UNCONVINCING
Anyway, the commissioner's recent arrival in Washington was overplayed to the point of caricature.

To be sure, Mr. McNutt has been presidentially mentioned, but not very vociferously. I have heard him suggested as a 5 per cent possibility. Yet the proportions of his reception in the capital clearly had been inflated to give the impression that he is a full-fledged 100 per center.

It might have been all very well if the yowl of acclaim had been at all convincing.

But it was not. The crowd which took 22 suites at the Mayflower hotel.

and, to the number of a few thousands, attended the McNutt banquet there, consisted almost exclusively of Indiana Democrats. It was not national. It too manifestly was stage-managed and paid for by McNutt political mechanism.

NOT MUCH INTEREST
Nobody else seemed to care a hoot for the affair.

Only two cabinet members—Attorney General Cummings and Secretary of Commerce Rogers—were on hand.

It would have been fine, as a state gathering, to boost McNutt for a senate seat. But presidentially?—no!

FOOLISH MOVES?
McNutt cannot entirely blame his Indiana managers, either.

He made a foolish play at Manila, when he insisted that tourists at Philippine banquets must be given to him first, ahead of Philippine President Quezon. Regardless of technique, the difference did not amount to much. He made himself look silly by raising the issue.

Then he came streaking back to the United States, to report to President Roosevelt upon Philippine issues, which the president evidently considers not a bit urgent—for he made no haste to meet the commissioner.

OVERESTIMATED?
Briefly, it looks as if Mr. McNutt had overestimated his importance.

His publicity has been awful also. Emphasis has been laid upon the detail that he is handsome. Handsome? What, the heck has that got to do with his presidential qualifications?

He is not well known in Washington, even though he was governor of Indiana and developed a high-powered political machine there.

He has been badly managed presidentially.

Id guess that he is out of the presidential running.

Imbibers Would Be Made To Ride Streets In Cages

(International News Service)

WOBURN, Mass., March 1.—To cage or not to cage Woburn's imbibers was still unsettled today.

Mayor William E. Kane pushed his plans to shame imbibers, while police were reported unwilling to chance civil suits.

"No, it won't be gilded, but we may have some birds in it," said Mayor Kane concerning the lion cage he plans to have a police cruising car drag through the city.

One intoxicated man, over the week-end was found asleep in the doorway of Mayor Kane's private law office.

On Court House Hill

REALTY TRANSFERS

William B. Powell, trustee, to Powell Realty and Development Company, 2nd ward, 51.

One more week of comparative inaction around the court rooms and the quarterly session of criminal court will get under way. For two officials it will be the first. District Attorney John G. Lamoree and County Detective Paul A. Welsh, both of them taking office after the first of the year. In Mr. Lamoree's case it will not be an entirely new experience as he has been assistant district attorney on several other occasions.

The list of cases to be tried is fairly large just now but will probably be reduced by pleas. Once the grand jury has handed down its findings a lot of people charged with violations of the criminal code decide it would be better to plead guilty or nolle contendere when means practically the same thing. By pleading they have an argument on sentence day that they have saved the costs of trying the case.

Judge W. Walter Braham was in Pittsburgh on Monday serving in the Allegheny county courts. The bench of Allegheny county seems to be making an intensive effort to clean up the docket as much as possible and have asked judges of various surrounding counties to come in and help.

In Allegheny county the mechanics of trying a case are not as involved as some of the smaller counties. In Lawrence and other counties where a man is tried for crime there is a full record of the testimony taken no matter what the offense.

In Allegheny county misdemeanors are not recorded save where the defendant wants to pay for a court stenographer. The examination of witnesses is not as lengthy as a rule, and often times the cases are submitted without argument.

On Monday morning a short session of court was held in Court Room No. 1 by Judge Dickey. A petition for the discharge of an administrator was heard in the estate of Theresa Hackett.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Elizabeth A. Lash, of New Castle, asks a divorce from her husband.

Willis H. Lash. They were married January 4, 1934. The cause assigned is cruel and barbarous treatment.

The walls and ceilings of the offices of Register and Recorder Orville Potter are bare as a plucked turkey just now. The wall paper has been removed and the county commissioners, will let a contract shortly for the painting and varnishing of the offices. The register and recorder's office was the last one on the first floor which had paper on the walls.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass.—Women's ability to make trouble is six

In filing his annual report, Cook observed: "As a probation officer, I would rather deal with a half dozen men than with one woman. Men can be made to see the error of their ways, but most women seem to feel that they know it all."

Spotovich May Be Assistant To 'Hooks' Mylin

All-Around Pitt Athlete May Get Offer To Go To Lafayette

By ED KIELY
International News Service Sports Editor

PITTSBURGH, March 1.—"Nothing definite." That was the result of the conference between Eddie Spotovich, all-around athlete at Pitt, who graduates this June, and Ed ("Hooks") Mylin, head football coach at Lafayette.

Mylin, who at present is reported touring the east in hopes of picking up a capable assistant, stopped over here last Saturday and immediately went into a huddle with Spotovich, who played for three seasons at end on the Pitt football team and is running out a three-year term in basketball, in which he is considered among the best.

It was learned Mylin, who is to take up the subject with the Eastern Pa. school's athletic council shortly, will notify Spotovich in about three weeks, telling him the result of the confab.

Would Accept Offer. It appears the slogan will be "Lafayette, I will come," for Spotovich, when queried about the meeting, said:

"Yes, I talked with Mr. Mylin but nothing definite was decided. However, I like it in the eastern part of the state, and if everything works out naturally I will accept the offer."

One of Pittsburgh's institutes of higher learning, blessed last year with a strong freshman football team, is being taught that even after grooming the boys in their first year they are not yet safely in the fold. It has been no secret that a few colleges could use some better prospects, and the local school's readings are being serenaded in the hope of enticing them to other pastures.

The informant, who tells this story, said it was a fact that a few of the outstanding freshmen stars were offered the "cake and trimmings" if they would come to such and such a school.

Mere Bagatelles. The colored stars of Negro National baseball league, who broke ranks last season and went to Santo Domingo to play for bigger stakes are going to pay a fine before they can be reinstated in the league. Chairman of the league's advisory board, Walter E. Shinn of Parlin, N. J., has been named captain of the University of Pennsylvania football team next season. Chinn, who prepped at Hun school before enrolling at Penn, is a star tackle. This seems to be the year for fouls. First and foremost is the Terry-newspapermen feud and now two Fayette county sports editors are a-fighting. Hugh Mulcahy, pitcher for the Phils, pitched in last year's final game, losing to the Yankees. The total was 56. The outstanding play of the New Castle high basketball team in the WPIAL tourney is causing pre-tourney departures to change their seats.

Demo Gives Credit To Other Titans For High Scoring

NEW WILMINGTON, March 1.—Andy Demo, Westminster's 15-point-per-game forward, with 240 markers in 15 contests, insists that "Paul Backus and John Krivosh, varsity center and guard, are the leading scorers...not me."

"I'm just the lucky forward who gets all the breaks from two of the best defensive players in the district," Demo declares. "Often they go through an entire game without shooting once, and yet leave the floor as the evening's best scorers."

It's embarrassing to read what some sports writers have to say about the district scoring," the slender, Johnstown forward said. "When I know it's the team that's responsible for it all."

Beaver Falls Men Are Guests Of Local Brotherhood

Fine Program And Social Evening Enjoyed By Trinity Lutheran Organization

ELLWOOD CITY, March 1.—Members of the Brotherhood of the Beaver Falls Lutheran church were special guests of the Brotherhood of Trinity Lutheran church of this city on Monday evening for a social evening.

There were 50 members and friends in attendance. Lawrence Finmer conducted the opening devotional service and the evening's topic, "The Christian Man's Attitude Toward the Women's Work of the Church," was interestingly discussed by Lee Whitmore and Arthur Dambach.

A quartet composed of Jones, Croft, Dom Mundo, Charles Reilly and Andrew Ziskel, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. George Atkins sang a number of appropriate selections, adding much to the evening's success.

The Brotherhood is sponsoring a Boy Scout troop in the church and already 21 members have joined the troop, which is being led by Donald Howells. It was agreed to purchase a flag for the new organization.

Dart ball was the diversion of the social period with the Beaver Falls team winning both matches.

To make the enjoyable affair complete a most delicious repast was served by Samuel Welsch and Herman Fleischer.

On Monday evening March 21, the next regular meeting will be held.

Eighty Attend Event At Christian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, March 1.—Eighty members and friends of the Progressive Bible class of the First Christian church gathered last evening in the church basement for a social evening that proved to be most enjoyable.

One of the diversions was Bible lingo with the awards going to Clara Aiken and Clara O'Brien. A spelling bee followed with Mrs. Thomas Bookman and Mrs. V. V. Johnston being the winners. The high-light of the evening was a question bee with Miss Ruth Blackney carrying off the high honors for that feature.

During the evening, a

Dairy Industry's Role Today Described Before Rotarians

The stability of the dairy industry and its contributions to the welfare of the nation were the subjects of a luncheon given by the Rotarian club members at the Rieck-Medunkin Dairy company and president of the Pittsburgh Advertising club.

Mr. Stevens, speaking at the luncheon, pointed out that the Rieck-Medunkin company in New Castle purchased in 1937, $100,000 of milk from nearby farmers and dispensed a payroll of $50,000 in the city of New Castle in addition to $2,000 local taxes.

Throughout the country, Mr. Stevens pointed out, the dairy industry is making the greatest contribution to the farmer's cash income of any basic agricultural product. In 1934 farmers received in the United States a cash income of more than a billion dollars which was twice the income of hogs and cotton, six times that of wheat and nine times that of corn. In 1935 the milk income was 12 per cent higher while in 1936 about 20 per cent of farm cash income came from the sale of milk.

"Milk is to the farmer a source of constant regular income and to the American public its most nearly perfect food," he said. "At no time over a period of many years have milk prices to the public improved as they have in other commodities and food fields."

"The American people consume annually 47 billion quarts of milk which, if allowed to run free would make a river 40 feet wide and 2 1/2 feet deep from New York to San Francisco and if put in 40 quarts cans and lined up they would go around the world 11 times. Of this 47 billion quarts, 12 billion quarts stay right on the farm to care for the farmer's needs and for the calves. Creameries take 15 billion quarts, cheese 2 1/2 billion, milk two billion, are cream one billion, by-product and industrial uses one-half billion. Fourteen billion quarts a year are left on the country's doors—145 million quarts a day. So reliable has become the delivery of milk that it is accepted as common place. Few people stop to realize the tremendous and efficient organization of men and machinery necessary to unfailingly deliver the milk.

"Storms, snow, sleet, ice and floods are combated by the milk men to get the milk through.

"From the farm to the consumer's door step, probably more care is given to milk than to any other food supply. 'Cleanliness' is the watch word and with the increasing use of pasteurization, the public is assured a pure fresh milk."

In connection with the economics of the industry Mr. Stevens said that about one-half of the cost of a quart bottle of milk goes to the farmer for the raw fluid milk on the farm, leaving the other half to cover distributors' cost of shipping, pasteurization, bottling, delivery and overhead so that a profit of one-eighth of a cent a quart on a bottle of milk would cause a milk dealer to dance in the streets with joy."

Modern milk plant processing was shown in a film following the talk. The speaker was introduced by William A. Smiler, local Rieck-Medunkin manager.

Huge Bombing Planes Forecast By Glenn Martin

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, March 1.—Super "flying fortresses" capable of carrying 64,000 pounds in bombs at 380 miles an hour were envisioned before the House Naval Affairs Committee Monday by Glenn L. Martin, Baltimore designer and manufacturer of the China Clipper planes.

The huge plane, four times the size of any bomber ever built, would have a wing spread of 300 feet, carry a crew of 30, cruise at 25,000 feet altitude with a flying range of 3,000 to 11,000 miles depending on the bomb load, he said.

The ship would weigh 250,000 pounds and would cost approximately $3,000,000 each.

But, he added, his own firm in Baltimore recently made a $2,000,000 extension in its plant facilities to gain an area equal to "15 football fields" to meet the possibility that some day such planes will be built.

"There is apparently no limit to the size that planes can attain," he declared. "I wouldn't advise building a 250,000-pound ship without building in the intermediate steps first."
